THANKS TO OUR SPONSORS AND DONORS:

1: Take a Tour of Schenley Park* – Embark on a guided walking tour of Schenley Park with a local naturalist. Learn about this unique Pittsburgh greenspace and the plants and animals that call it home. Keep your eyes peeled and cameras ready to document living organisms in the park.
 *Restrooms are available inside Phipps Conservatory Welcome Center and Botany Hall.

2. Ask the Experts – Bring pictures of species you find on the walking tour of Schenley Park to Botany Hall Classroom, where our experts will identify the species and add it to the total BioBlitz organism count.

3. Be a Biological Illustrator – Partner with local artists to create nature-themed art pieces.

4: Meet the Scientists – Discover what exciting scientific research is taking place across Pittsburgh. Attend a science communication fellow’s presentation in Botany Hall Auditorium or visit their tabling display on the front lawn of the Conservatory.

5: BioBlitz Festivities – Enjoy musical entertainment, food and beverages, a variety of family-friendly activities and exhibits from both our non-profit partners and local vendors.
